For Those Who Have RSVP'D for Sunday's Reception at Deerhaven

Hello DCLSA Members,

For those attending the Commodores Reception (you have RSVP'd), please try to carpool/boatpool with friends if possible. Parking and dock space is limited at the Deerhaven. When parking, please fill the main parking lot from the bottom end up without excessive space between cars in order to maximize the number of cars that will fit. Additional parking is available in the grass along the driveway to Building 2 (the smaller building), or on the shoulder along Shoreline Drive just past the club entrance. Please do not park in the grass below our main parking lot as it is soggy and there is a chance you could get stuck in the mud. There will be tape blocking off that section.

Thanks,
Jen and Russ

Sailors and Supporters!

THANK YOU! We have reached our goal! Sixty-four member families, sailors and spectators from both clubs, have pledged donations sufficient to push us to our fund raising goal for the purchase and outfitting of a new Race Committee Signal Boat. Thank you, each and every one of you, for your support. Now we can go back to watching the wind shifts and stop looking at whether the Race Committee Signal boat has gone to the bottom!

Thanks so much!
Ray Gauthier

I would like to publicly thank all of our supporters that donated to the new Race Committee Signal Boat:

French Country Picnic
Saturday August 24th

This was one impressive party!

An e-mail early in the week (from Doug House to Sarah Nill) posed a question, the gist being . . .

We only have 35 signed up . . . . do members at our club sign up closer to the deadline, do you think we'll have a jump in numbers?

My response . . .
welcome to the world of Turkey Neck reservations!

Within 48 hours the RSVP list jumped to over 120 and then held a waiting list of nearly 30.

When you have special ordered lamb a week ahead, you find yourself in a pinch.

No problem for TEAM HOUSE!

A French Country Picnic with Jazz & Dancing!

"Going on a picnic is about luxury—the luxury of time." Chef Daniel Boulud

L'Apéritif (To Enjoy While Gathering)

Marinated Goat Cheese, Olives, Artichokes and Tomatoes - from the Loire Valley, delicious on their own and piled on a slice of baguette

Saucisson Sec - garlicky cured pork sausage enjoyed across France as a midday snack or to whet the appetite for dinner to come

Pissaladiere - from the port city of Nice, a kind of French pizza with caramelized onions, black olives, and salty white anchovies

Le Plat Principal (Main Course)

Grilled Lamb Chops - a staple of the South of France dusted with Herbs de Provence – a blend of herbs like thyme, marjoram, and lavender that grow wild across the south of France

Grilled Ratatouille - eggplant, zucchini, onions, tomatoes cooked individually and then mixed together; from "ratatolha" in Occitan (the pre-French language of Languedoc) meaning "stirred up"

Potato Salad with Cornichon and Dijon Mustard - salty pickles with a touch of tarragon and spicy Dijon mustard give mellow potatoes a satisfying "pop"

Haricot Vert with Pickled Onion - "Haricot" means bean and "Vert" green – but like the average French person, a touch thinner and more refined than we sometimes see here ;-)

Fromage (Cheese – The Last Savory Bite Before Dessert!)

Époisses de Bourgogne - Burgundy's great cow's milk cheese washed in wine and aged to funky perfection; stinky enough that it is illegal to carry Époisses in the subway in Paris

Ossau Iraty - sheep's milk cheese from the French Pyrenees

Comté - cow's milk cheese from Franche-Comté, perhaps France's most popular cheese

Dessert (You Can Figure This One Out, Right?)

Cherry Clafoutis - cherries in sweet eggy batter, from the region around the walled city of Carcassonne in Languedoc; from the Occitan "clafotis" or "to fill"

Vins et Boissons (Wines and Drinks)

Limonade Rosé - pink lemonade; alcohol free because not even the French drink wine all the time

La Petit Frog Picpoul de Pinet 2018 - crisp, clean, refreshing white wine from Languedoc presented as it's most often drunk in France – in a box!

Moulin de Gassac Guilhem Rosé 2018 - Syrah and Carignan, picked early and tangy, allowed to stay on the skins for a few hours, and fermented dry, crisp, fresh

La Vignette Gamay Touraine 2017 - from the western Loire Valley, a juicy, fresh, easy-sipping red

Dom Alain Jaume Cotes du Rhone Haut de Brun 2016 - gutsy Grenache/Syrah blend aged in concrete

On August 25, 30 members came to Sunday Supper to Celebrate WILLIE'S 80th birthday!!!

Willie chose to be with her Yacht Club Family for this special day...Her son Todd and grandsons Trey and Gavin also attended along with Mike, Willie's very special guy, who accompanied her on the DCL vacation.

We had the usual yummy fare and concluded with balloons, flowers, cards, a champagne toast and cake.

P.S. Anne Wiley's birthday was August 24 so the cake, provided by Jean Thagard, was for both gals!!

T-Shirts

What's does Red and Green remind you of?
Of course, port and starboard. It also reminds us of the upcoming December Holiday Season which is fast approaching! Get a jump on your holiday shopping by buying 2018 red or green T-shirts for the kids, grandkids, and kids at heart in your life.

We have small and extra large sizes in red and green left. At $5.00 each they make great stocking stuffers and a great way to help the club!

We also have 2019 shirts left for $15.00! Help the club and buy some shirts! To purchase see Lissa or Stephanie this weekend at the DCLSA Fall Meeting, the Commodore's reception or just around. You can also email Lissa with your order at lklueter@icloud.com.

End of Season Trophy Sale
Monday, September 2
(immediately following the Year-End Awards Ceremony)

Last fall, the DCYRA board approved the sale of all DCYRA collectables leftover from the Trophy Program. Holding the sale allows us to clear out the current stock, in order to make way for some fresh new items and designs. The goal is to sell out, which may mean the sale's continuation during the Fair Winds Regatta.

To make things simple and to eliminate cash transactions, all purchases should be billed through existing DCLSA accounts. If you don't have a DCLSA account, it is possible for DCYRA to send out a bill.

The prices are as follows:

12 oz. Glasses	10.00
Wine Glasses	7.50
Mugs	10.00
Coasters	4.00
Coaster Holders	7.50
String Bags	5.00

Last Sunday of the Summer!

SUNDAY LASER COURSE

We are continuing the separate course on Sunday afternoons as availability of volunteers permits.

Racing is at 12:30 p.m. concurrent with the normal racing but on a second course. No Flying Scots in your way!

MORE NEW SAILORS - BIG IMPACT ON FLEET

The intent is to encourage junior and less experienced sailors to get out to race and improve - and over time enhance and grow the

Laser Fleet.

During the races, experienced Laser sailors are encouraged to give advice and pointers to the juniors. The PRO will be looking to set up a course that lends itself to more shorter races in order to keep the juniors interest up by having several races instead of one or two long races. This helps hold their attention and interest but also serves to keep the fleet a little closer together so experienced sailors can see and help the juniors.

And hopefully the course is a little more comfortable without the bigger boat traffic. Please encourage your Laser sailors to get out and participate!

VOLUNTEERS

You can help too by volunteering for Laser course race committee and safety patrol. Please let Mark Haraway know if you can volunteer: 410-615-0367 cell/text mharaway@gmail.com

AND - don't forget about Sunday Morning Sail - 10:00 a.m. - 11:30 a.m. for youth sailors. Opti Prams, RS Terras and Lasers are available for youth to get out and sail.

Learn more at www.dclsailingschool.com or contact Jill Bennet - 443-223-4081.

House News

Please check the lost & found before Labor Day. All unclaimed items will be donated to Christian Crossings.

Kids' Room Guidelines for Parents & Guardians

1. SUPERVISE

Parents of children who are age 4 and younger should be within eyesight of their children at all times.

Parents of kids age 5 & up should check in often to ensure that their children are acting responsibly.

2. SET EXPECTATIONS

Parents should meet with their children to discuss expectations on how to take care of this area- including furniture, games, toys, and sports equipment. Remind the children not to set drinks, wet swimsuits or towels on any wood or fabric. Show them where trashcans are and encourage them to help keep the area clean.

Encourage children to go and get an adult if they see behavior that is dangerous to others, or to our facility.

"If you see something, say something!"

3. FOLLOW THROUGH

Please check the kids' room before you leave each event to ensure that your children haven't left anything out.

It is the member's responsibility to share this information with guests upon each visit.

Thank you for keeping this special area of our club in great shape!

Celestial Course

We may offer another class for celestial navigation. Several members indicated they would take advantage of an opportunity to learn about it. Those who attended either one or both of the original sessions should return if they can. That way we won't have to spend so much time on the fundamentals. The old hands can help the new ones. We can work on reducing the star shots so that they can be plotted.

There is a Celestial Navigation notebook in the club library with a lot of background information and different ways to analyze the star locations to determine the position on the ground.

Contact Charles Graham to set up a time, or times. I am available as needed.

Regards,

Morgan France
